Spirit of B.H.S.

As we pass through the portals to face reality, we leave our high school days but take with us treasured memories of BHS. We will always remember the many wonderful hours of this year — the crowded social room at lunch time — the pre-tardy bell rush — the struggle to get term papers in on time — the chocolate sale — the fun we had in our clubs — practicing for plays — the whispers in study hall — the Washington trip — the ball games where the spirit of BHS was displayed — our never-ending search for knowledge — and most of all, the warm companionship of our school friends. As we steal our last glance of this year at BHS, we know that our school has instilled in us the invincible spirit to achieve the ultimate goal of our capabilities.

These elements have made our year...

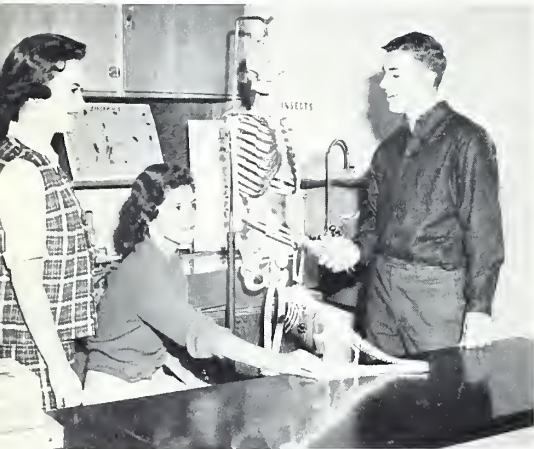

The people we've known;

Now, your test results show . . .

“Life has no pleasure nobler than that of friendship.” The most lasting memory the students of B.H.S. will hold is that of the friends they have made throughout these three years. Seeking, sharing, understanding, learning, and growing in spirit with fellow classmates make true friends.

Our varied, exciting, and educational activities make up the second element. In the clubs and organizations and the activities they sponsor, the co-operation and unity which exist keep Brown High students in harmonious fellowship.

FELLOWSHIP

The fun we've shared...

Voices lifted high in singing the Alma Mater . . .
the cheers of the students as the possession of the Victory Bell was assured . . . and the feeling of pride as the Pep Club flashed its first letter . . .
combined to make our year at Brown one of fun.

BROWN HIGH

Dedication

True greatness can not be defined in words. It can only be personified by the living example of true greatness. Such an example can be found in the unselfish contributions of HARVEY TURNER, director of the A. L. Brown High School Band. Through his untiring efforts to make the band better, it has steadily become one of the best in the state.

To you, Mr. Turner, for your time and devotion to a cause spent beyond the call of duty, and for your encouragement to each individual, we sincerely dedicate this, our ALBROKAN of 1960.

Beautiful and rich is friendship
Grateful to the touch as ancient ivory,
Smooth as a serene sky or sheen of tapestry
Where light has lingered, intimate and long.
Full of tears and warm is a friend,
That asks no longer deeds of gallantry,
Or any deed at all—but that the friend shall be Alive and breathing somewhere, like a song.

ADAMS ARMSTRONG

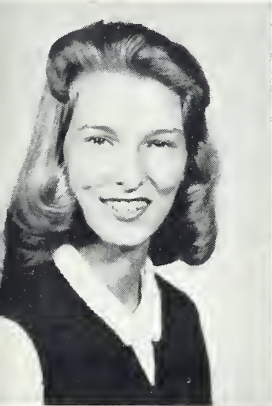

As our senior year draws to a close and we see one of our greatest dreams come into view, we pause to take a brief glance at a part of our lives which lies in the past. It is hard to realize that we won't be planning homecoming anymore, it will be planned for us. We had so much fun at Brown, but we also learned a lot, a lot that wasn't found in a text book. The fun, laughter, the heartaches, tears and the knowledge will be retained all of our lives. Farewell must come; but we can't leave our under classmen without challenging them to study hard, gain a thirst for knowledge, go to every football game, dance every dance at the Junior-Senior, and always yell for the green and white. We say:

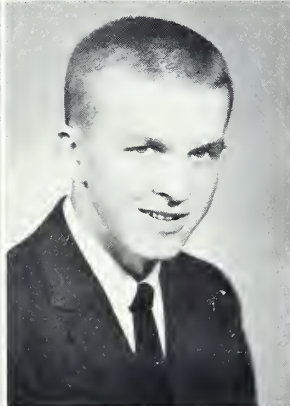

*"So long, dear B.H.S.
And know its not goodbye,
We'll visit in a little while,
We love you so, Brown High"*

The thirteen juniors with the highest scholastic averages are chosen as Marshals for the Commencement exercises. With pride they usher the parents, teachers, and friends of the seniors into the auditorium. The greatest moment is preceding the seniors as they walk down the aisle for Baccalaureate, Class Night, and Graduation.

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1960

As the day's life fades away, before the complete absorbing darkness of night, there comes a time of a peaceful intermingling of both the night and the day—twilight time. Before the darkness let us pause and reflect on the day that has just passed before us. The dawn of our high school career at A. L. Brown began when we enrolled as sophomores in 1957. During the first class meeting of the year, we elected Danny Bost, president; Henry Eller, vice-president; Judy Hudson, secretary; and Phyllis Williams, treasurer. Chosen for council members were Judy Turner and Marvin Williams. Our many projects, for example, the magazine sale, were completed successfully.

As the day advances we recall our junior year. We now felt as if we were really a part of Brown High since we were no longer "green sophomores", yet we were still not on the top. Serving as class officers were George Kiser, president; Bobby Hill, vice-president; Phyllis Williams, secretary; and Jerry Dellinger, treasurer. Judy Turner and Jimmy Dayvault were council members. One of the most awaited events of the year came when we boarded the buses at 5:00 A.M. on April 16, 1959 for Washington, D. C. A first for our class came when we presented the Junior Class Play, SEVENTEEN; the first musical ever to be presented at Brown High. Another of our fondest memories was when our long awaited class rings arrived.

Chosen to serve as cheerleaders for the coming year were Judy Davis, chief; Karen Price, Jeannie Price, Taska Sikes, Tyna Coggins, and Robert Hartsell. For their journalistic skill, Jane Dayvault and Joanne Drolette were elected editors of the BROWN HIGHLIGHTS and ALBROKAN. Chosen to serve the student body as president was Jimmy Dayvault, and Marvin Williams, as vice-president.

When our senior year finally arrived, we realized that this was our last year at Brown. Our class officers were Danny Bost, president; George Kiser, vice-president; Phyllis Williams, secretary; Judy Turner, treasurer; and Myra Atkinson, chaplain. Representing us in Student Government were Judy Davis and Bill Bond.

The beauty and talents of our class were represented in the carousel parade by Judy Davis; reigning over homecoming festivities was Judy Hudson; representing us at Winthrop was Judy Turner, "Miss-Hi-Miss"; and reigning over May Day was Dianne Huggins, "May Queen", and Alice Montgomery, maid of honor.

The class chose "Living today in search of tomorrow" as its motto, and yellow and white as its colors. The yellow rose was chosen as the class flower.

With our senior year came several changes. Perhaps one of the most important was the change in the grading system. Another change was instead of the class wearing two different colors of caps and gowns, it was decided that all the seniors would wear white gowns with green and white tassels.

Then came Senior Day! This day will long be remembered by all seniors as the last time all shared their gaiety in unison.

Now, as the day slips away, the gaiety and laughter has faded, and we each look forward with a sense of seriousness, newly known to us. This seriousness, borne of the realization that all was drawing to an end, was hidden under a pretense of gaiety as we attended the many rehearsals. As we sat listening to the Baccalaureate Sermon, we realized what this message meant to us. It was a message for our futures. The presentation of awards for our many achievements on Class Night was a highlight in this all important ceremony.

Finally, as we marched down the aisle to the fading strains of "Pomp and Circumstance", we realized that the long-awaited and much feared climax was at an end. Yes, graduation night was here. And we each received that cherished diploma and bade farewell to our classmates, there were tears in our eyes; but a bright ray of purpose in our minds. With this, we faced the future.

Now the day is almost gone. The last dim light is being absorbed by the night, but beyond the night lies our hope and our future. We must face life and turn aside the feeling of sadness which now seems so evident. We must go each our own way, maybe never to meet again, but these memories will live with us, until death itself.

THE SENIOR CROSSROAD

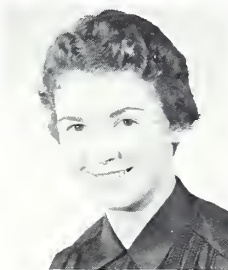

We have come to the end of one path in our lives,
And now at the crossroads we stand.

This journey has passed, but another begins
That leads through a strange, new land.

The study and learning, the work and the fun,
The teachers and friends that we knew,
Assimilate in wisdom—past travels which form
A map that will guide us through.

Behind us lie classes, activities, socials;
Twelve years of life—But ahead
The roads of the future await our approach.
We enter with uncertain tread.

"Living today in search of tomorrow,"
Unsure where the new road may end,
We bid our "Farewell", beloved Brown High,
And face forward; our journeys begin.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Edgar Ketchie, President
Ronnie Barlow, Vice-president

Brenda Neal, Secretary
George Oehler, Treasurer

The Junior Class will long be remembered by those who shared its happiness and fine moments, and who had the ability and desire to travel the road that leads toward a golden gate, graduation. Our heritage gives us the strength to achieve our destiny.

We learn to abide by the obstacles and use our talent, friendship, fun, and intelligence to overcome them. Our paths and journeys were brightened by the cherished Washington trip. Our mind and intelligence progressed as well as our talents to produce our class play, Charley's Aunt, which appeared as a colossal success.

We adorned our physical selves with the precious element of 14-K gold. Work and ability gave a strong desire for leadership and success in life.

Almost the last stop of our journey now, and we find that we have our place secured. Our reward has come. The high ideals and hard work have been rewarded by the highlight of our year, the Junior-Senior Prom. To sum it all up, we loyally pledge to make our school a higher, nobler, and better place for us, as we take our place next year as Seniors.

Eager, anxious sophomores were we, as we entered the unfamiliar building to register for our first year at Brown High School. With brave smiles and wandering eyes, we timidly faced our upperclassmen; however, on these strange faces we later saw the warmth of friendly smiles.

As the year progressed, we as a class held our own in scholastic achievement, as well as school spirit. We became an important part of Brown High as we participated in sporting events, attended social activities, and supported our school with our time and effort.

We looked ahead to our many responsibilities with great awareness and determination. With pride we excelled in the "World's Finest Chocolate" sale. Many of our classmates achieved honor through their outstanding participation in athletics.

We will long remember and hold dear to our hearts the memories of lasting friendships and the happiness we shared together this, our sophomore year.

Lucille Gibson, Essie Adams, Melvin Hopper, and James Brown are an indispensable part of Brown High School. These personalities keep our classrooms and halls immaculately clean throughout the school year. Their services and efforts are always tirelessly performed. We are deeply appreciative of their services and hope these four will linger with us for many years to come. To them, a sincere thank you from Brown High School.

These Friendly Ones Keep Brown Clean

Melvin

James

It's the hand clasp, the good word and the smile
That does the most and helps the most to make the world worth while.
It's all of us together, or it's only you and I—
A ringing song of fellowship, a word or two of cheer,
Then all the world is gladder, and the bending sky is clear.
It's you and I together—and we're brothers one and all
Whenever through fellowship we hear the subtle call,
Whenever in the ruck of things we feel the helping hand
Or see the deeper glow that none but we can understand—
Then all the world is good to us and all is worth the while.
It's the hand clasp, the good word, and the smile.

The Student Government of A. L. Brown High School is the means of putting democracy, the keynote of American life, into action.

The Student Government gives to the student body the machinery for participating in the government of the school; it sets the stage for and produces the experiences which American citizens are called upon to face in their adult communities. Most important of all, it teaches the obligations and responsibilities which belong to individuals who wish to enjoy and preserve our democratic way of life.

Miss Bounds and President Jimmy Dayvault admire new seal.

Fun is reason gone mad to achieve a definite, rational objective.

Fun is inflamed by suppression, but never converted; it is the leaping lightning that blasts obstacles from its path.

Fun is the X-ray of the soul, that penetrates and reveals the invisible.

Fun is a contagion that laughs at quarantine and inoculates all who come in contact with it.

Fun is the vibrant thrill in your voice that sways the wills of others into harmony with your own.

Fun is the "philosopher's stone" that transmutes dull tasks into delightful deeds.

Fun is a magnet that draws kindred souls with irresistible force and electrifies them with the magnetism of its own resolves.

Co-captains:

The 1959 season was an even break for the Little Wonders as they won five and lost five. In taking inventory of the season, we note that we had the potential power, but lacked the strength in some of our games. The year was one of many changes for our team. There were many new faces on the varsity squad, new work-out methods, and a new line coach, Coach Bill Watts. Coaches Edmiston and Watts guided the boys through a difficult season. The players and fans can recall such memories as these: tying the top powerhouses of the conference, the victory over our rivals, the Concord Spiders; and our cherished homecoming game and its theme, "Thanks for the Memories," that will linger with us years from now.

One touchdown wins the game!

Speed pays big dividends.

School spirit enveloped the hearts of each of Brown High's students during all of our football season, but the unspeakable joy of winning the Concord-Konnopolis game caused our school spirit to reach a new peak of greatness. The thrilling cheers, the excitement, the anticipation and the tears of a wonderful victory will linger with us long after school days are over. Remember?

skill, endurance, and enthusiasm

Our football team of 1959-60 was made up of many new and inexperienced players. Excellent teamwork was seen in all the games although defeat was suffered, as well as victories won. These boys, as members of next year's team, will profit by the valuable experience which they gained this season. The football team and fans are looking forward to next year's season.

The 1959-60 boys' basketball team, relatively small and inexperienced, started the season with winning spirit. They adapted themselves well to a new coach and gave an exciting season. They were packed with spirit, fire, and hustle; all of which combined to win the respect of their opponents and the admiration of the student body.

Grab it and go.
